Regarding the emergency notice on the treatment of unexplained pneumonia, the emergency notice document of the Municipal Health Commission on submitting the treatment of unexplained pneumonia is true. On the evening of the 30th, an emergency document called "Emergency Notice on Doing a Good Job in the Treatment of Unexplained Pneumonia", which was issued as a red-headed document of the Medical Administration Department of Wuhan Municipal Health Commission, was widely disseminated on the Internet.

The First Financial Reporter called 12320, the official hotline of Wuhan Municipal Health Commission, on the morning of the 31st, and learned that the content of the document was true.

The 12320 hotline staff said that the type of pneumonia that occurred in Wuhan this time has yet to be identified.

According to the above-mentioned documents, according to the emergency notice from superiors, some medical institutions in Wuhan have appeared in patients with pneumonia of unknown cause one after another. All medical institutions should strengthen the management of outpatient and emergency care, strictly implement the first diagnosis responsibility system, actively mobilize efforts to treat patients with pneumonia for unknown reasons on the spot, and do not refuse to pass the buck.

The document emphasizes that all medical institutions should strengthen multidisciplinary professional forces such as respiratory, infectious disease department and intensive care medicine in a targeted way, unblock the green channel, do a good job in the effective connection between outpatient and emergency departments, and improve the emergency plan for medical treatment.

Another emergency notice called "Emergency Notice of the Municipal Health Commission on Reporting the Treatment of Unexplained Pneumonia" is also true. According to this document, according to the emergency notice from superiors, patients with pneumonia of unknown cause have appeared one after another in the South China Seafood Market in our city.

The so-called unexplained pneumonia cases refer to the following four pneumonia cases that cannot be clearly diagnosed at the same time: fever (≥38 °C); imaging characteristics of pneumonia or acute respiratory distress syndrome; reduction or normal total number of white blood cells in the early stage of the disease, or reduction of lymphocyte classification count; standardized treatment by antibiotics After 3-5 days of treatment, the condition did not improve significantly.

It is understood that the first patient with unexplained pneumonia symptoms who appeared in Wuhan this time came from Wuhan South China Seafood Market.

12320 hotline staff said that the Wuhan Disease Control Department went to the treatment hospital as soon as possible to collect patient samples, and the specific virus was still waiting for the final test results. Patients with pneumonia with unknown causes have done a good job of isolation and treatment, which will not affect other patients to go to medical institutions for normal treatment. Wuhan has the country's first-class virus research institution. Once the virus test results are found, they will be announced to the public as soon as possible.

According to the emergency notice from superiors, some medical institutions in our city have successively appeared patients with unexplained pneumonia. In order to effectively do a good job in the medical treatment of such patients and effectively ensure the health and safety of the people, the relevant work requirements for the treatment of unexplained pneumonia patients with similar characteristics are hereby notified as follows:

1. Strengthen responsible leadership

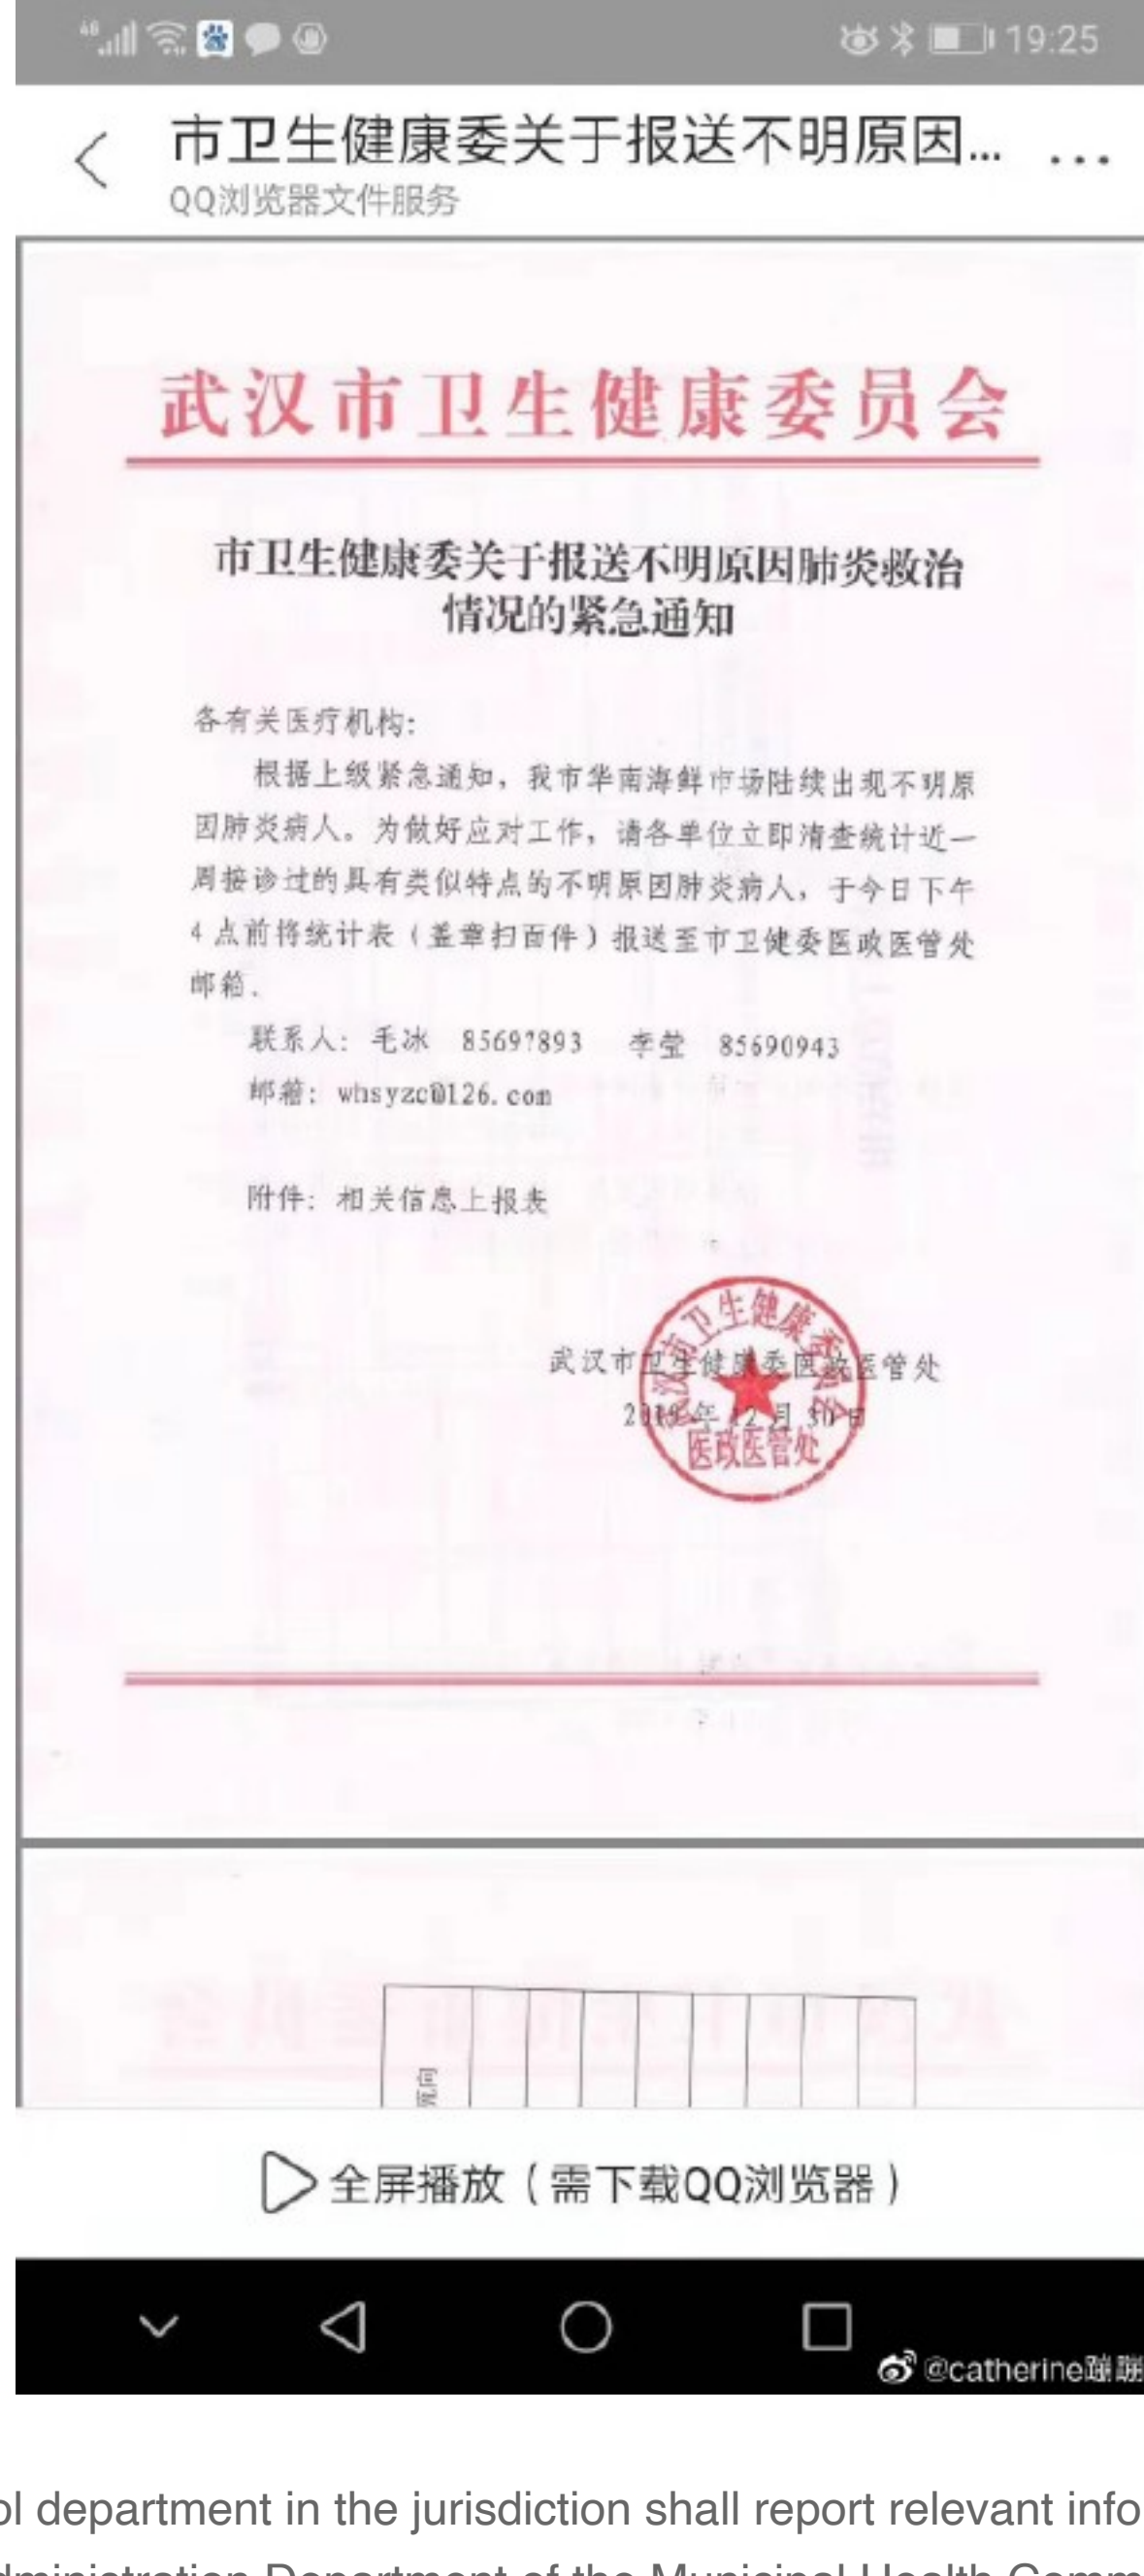

Medical institutions at all levels should improve their sense of responsibility, attach great importance to relevant medical work, clarify responsible leaders, identify leading departments, set up special working classes, coordinate resources, organize expert groups, properly make work arrangements, and ensure the orderly development of diagnosis and treatment.

2. Standardize medical treatment

All medical institutions should strengthen the management of outpatient and emergency care, strictly implement the first diagnosis responsibility system, actively mobilize efforts to treat patients with pneumonia for unknown reasons on the spot, and do not refuse to pass the buck. It is necessary to strengthen multidisciplinary professional forces such as respiratory, infectious disease and critical care medicine in a targeted way, unblock the green channel, do a good job in the effective connection between outpatient and emergency departments, improve the emergency plan for medical treatment, strengthen the training of medical personnel, and reasonably standardize diagnosis and treatment. Strengthen the prevention and control of nosocomial infections.

3. Strict information reporting

All medical institutions should track and count the treatment situation in time and report to the treatment situation in time as required.

The disease control department in the jurisdiction shall report relevant information and submit it to the Medical Administration Department of the Municipal Health Commission at the same time, and submit major matters in time.

No unit or individual may publish educational information to the public without authorization.
